Why Teach Music?

- ♪ Music is science.
- ♪ Music is mathematical.

- ♪ Music is history.
- ♪ Music develops insight and demands research.

WHY teach music?

music is a science

It is exact, specific; it demands exact acoustics. A conductor's full score is a chart, a graph which indicates frequencies, intensities, volume changes, melody and harmony all at once and with the most exact control of time.

music is mathematical

It is rhythmically based on the subdivision of time into fractions which must be done instantaneously, not worked out on paper.

music is a foreign language

Most of the terms are in Italian, German, or French; and the notation is certainly not English – but a highly developed kind of shorthand that uses symbols to represent ideas. The semantics of music is the most complete and universal language. Also, many songs we study are from other cultures.

music is physical education

It requires fantastic coordination of fingers, hands, arms, lip, cheek, and facial muscles, in addition to extraordinary control of the diaphragmatic, back, stomach, and chest muscles, which respond instantly to the sound the ear hears and the mind interprets.

most of all, music is art.

It allows a human being to take all these dry, technically boring (but difficult) techniques and use them to create emotion. That is one thing science cannot duplicate: humanism, feeling, emotion.

This Is Why We Teach Music !

...not because I expect you to major in music,
not because I expect you to play or sing all your life,
not so you can relax,
not so you can have fun,

but so you will be human,
so you will recognize beauty,
so you will be closer to an infinite beyond this world,
so you will have something to cling to,
so you will have more love, more compassion,
more gentleness, more good

in short, more life.

Of what value will it be to make a prosperous living unless you know how to live?

Teacher Comments

Music makes my students joyful and excited to learn. There is an increased ability to retain information, eagerness to cooperate with peers and a confidence that shines when it is music time.

"The children had a chance to learn songs, make an instrument and become exposed to new music. Thank you for finding a way to continue this work despite the pandemic! I know it was a challenge and truly appreciate the effort required!"

It gives those students who aren't excelling academically another avenue to be creative and feel good about themselves.

The students are up and moving. More importantly, they are learning how to read music.
